TOWN SPIRIT?

On last Friday evening this writer journeyed with a party of friends to McComb, Miss., to view the McComb-Stanislaus football game. Needless to say, we enjoyed the trip and the game, although our team came out on the short end of the score, but what impressed us more than anything else, was the community spirit and the backing given their team by the people of McComb.

For a city with a population of slightly over 11,000, we were amazed to see a crowd of more than 5,000 in attendance for the first game of their football season. It must, indeed, be an inspiration to the boys on the team, their coaches, and the school officials to receive such loyal backing from the townspeople. But, from all appearances, that is the way they do everything up there "in that neck of the woods."

A ride around McComb, through the business section, and on into the residential part of town, would at once, give a visitor the impression that it is a town of at least 20,000 population instead of one under 12,000. ALL of the streets in town are paved; the entire town is CLEAN from end to end; every piece of private property is well-kept, with green lawns and many with beautiful gardens. It has a new million-dollar High School building, large stadium, two well-kept hospitals, (one now being enlarged) and many other improvements.

We could go on and on, but the more we think of how much other towns have, the more we realize how little we have here in our town, while in comparison, we pay as much if not more taxes, as any town in the state. But what we seem to lack here is community spirit and cooperation. We just don't seem to care what happens from one day to the next. Weeds grown up in vacant lots around town are not only eyesores and fire hazards, but traffic hazards as well, since automobile drivers approaching many corners cannot see traffic coming along the cross streets. Property owners should either cut these weeds on their lots, as a matter of civic pride, or be forced to cut them as a protection against fire and traffic accidents.

Our beach—what little we have—is allowed to grow up in weeds, instead of being kept clean and inviting to visitors. Our beach is our greatest, God-given, natural asset and could be the means of making Bay St. Louis one of the favored resort spots on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

It is not a bad idea for all of us, at some time or other, to visit the other fellow's town and see for ourselves how things are done there. In that way we pick up some good ideas which may never before have entered our minds.

HOUSE RECONVENING

After a 19 day recess designed to give the slower moving Senate an opportunity to catch up on the legislative program, the House reconvened on September 12. It found awaiting it five major bills that it had passed some weeks ago and that the Senate had acted upon during the recess. Four of these were appropriations bills and the fifth was the Mutual Security Act of 1951; the new foreign aid bill. It promptly sent these to conference to iron out the differences between the versions of the two Houses. While in session each day the House is still actually marking time waiting on conference reports and Senate action. That body, as usual, holds the key to final adjournment. Several weeks ago the Senate Majority Leader, after a conference with the President and with other congressional leaders, fixed October 1 as a target date for adjournment, but there is now talk that it may be October 12 before Congress winds up its business for this session. Principal hurdles still in the way are the new tax, which is being debated in the Senate as this is written, and proposed amendments to the new controls bill which were requested by the President during the House recess.

NEW TUNG BILL

The Department of Agriculture has given the chairman of the Ways and Means Committee its comments on the new tung bill that we introduced this session. This bill would set up a system of quotas for the importation of tung oil similar to that now in effect for sugar. It would also impose a duty of 25 percent on imported tung oil when the domestic price falls below the support price set by the Secretary of Agriculture. While it is conceded that so long China the domestic tung producer needs no protection, the legislation was designed to set up a long range program for the encouragement of this infant industry. It was designed to forestall a possible return to the situation that prevailed prior to the outbreak of the Korean conflict. Red China was then exporting tung oil at a figure one cent below the support price and just low enough to undercut the domestic producers and beat down the domestic price. This situation resulted in the Commodity Credit Corporation's having to purchase some of the domestic crop. This Government-owned tung oil has since been disposed of without loss to the Government but that would not have been possible without the increased military need for tung oil brought on by the Korean War.

Unfortunately, the Department of Agriculture has not seen fit to approve the proposed legislation. The Department takes the position that there is sufficient authority now available to restrict importations of tung oil. However, one of the authorities that it cites, the provision of the Defense Production Act that no imports of fats and oils shall be admitted during this fiscal year, is now under attack. In the President's message referred to above requesting amendments to the controls act, he asked that the fats and oils imports provision be repealed and the Senate has just reported a bill to carry out his recommendation.

The Ways and Means Committee requested reports on the bill from several other departments, and we are still awaiting these.

WAR DEAD TO HAVE KOREA INSCRIPTION

Washington—The word "Korea" will be inscribed on markers on graves of all U.S. Armed Forces men killed in that country and buried in national cemeteries.

President Truman ordered this untangling red tape which had prohibited such identification because the Korean conflict is not officially a war.

Regulations say that inscriptions on government headstones in national cemeteries may contain the name, date of birth and death (abbreviation of military awards), field, a religious emblem and "the war in which service was rendered."

The president ordered that the word

DAIRY CATTLE RECORD EXPECTED FOR FAIR

More than 450 dairy cattle are exhibited at the 1951 Mississippi State Fair, according to L. A. Higgins, Jr., in extension dairying at State College and superintendent of the State Fair Dairy Show. "It looks like we will have more dairy cattle on the grounds this Fall than we have ever had," he said. All sections of the state are to be represented with about four dairy breeds: Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein and Brown Swiss.

It's the same way in the natural gas business. One gas well doesn't assure a dependable supply. In fact, it takes hundreds of wells in more than 200 gas fields to assure dependable service to the homes, stores and industries obtaining their natural gas from the lines of United Gas.

New fields are being added to our system all the time—through exploration and drilling, or by the purchase of gas from other producers. Our company is working diligently to provide adequate supplies of gas for the present and future needs of all our customers—residential, commercial, industrial.

EXHIBITS AT FAIR TO SHOW MANY PHASES OF YOUTH ACTIVITY

O. Monosmith, State fair, and chairman of 4-H club, at the 1951 Mississippi fair, looking forward to one of the 4-H club exhibits ever seen at the State Fair.

Many that can be told on the basis of use of the 4-H Train this year will be an important one. The great need for food and conservation in the world emergency will be emphasized in several exhibits," Monosmith said.

Club exhibits at this year's fair will include many phases of youth activity. The Junior Dairy club will be the best ever held at the fair. The animals that have been shown at the district elimination and the county fairs already have great interest in this field.
Excellent showing of fat stock and swine is also expected.

It will be outstanding exhibits in this division which will include pigs and sweet potatoes. Mr.
Monosmith also added, "We expect a greatly enlarged 4-H Club section this year to show the work done by the thousands of youths in this project. We will also have an improved 4-H craft display which will show the handy work of 4-H Club members in tool, leather, basketry, painting, rug making, weaving, woodwork and others."

Mr. Monosmith stated that there would be five educational exhibits constructed by subject matter specialists showing activities of 4-H Club members in these four fields: Home Gardens and Orchards, Home Grounds Improvement, Interior Home Improvement and Insect Study and Control.

In addition to the various activities outlined above, 4-H Club Dress and Clothing Revue will also be held. In this department, dresses or suits, together with all accessories, that have won a blue ribbon in county exhibits are to be shown. As a climax to this exhibit, a dress revue will be held in the Fair Auditorium at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, October 12.

In addition to the regular premiums offered by the State Fair in each division of the 4-H Club department, United Gas will add 50 percent bonus to all 4-H Club winners.

SOUTHERN BELL CO. INSTALLS NEW DIAL SYSTEM IN STATE

Several hundred citizens of Natchez and surrounding counties are expected to attend ceremonies at Brookville on Friday to celebrate the inauguration of the new dial telephone switching unit just completed there by the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

According to T. E. Harris, Southern Bell's Mississippi Manager, the Brookville switching unit will provide modern dial telephone service for approximately 200 subscribers in northern Natchez County when the project is completed.
About 100 of these telephones will be located in the town of Brookville and another 100 will serve the surrounding rural areas including the communities of Bigbee Valley, Cliftonville, Deer-brook and Lynn Creek.

The celebration, during which the new dial telephone switching unit will be placed in service will be held at the Brookville Consolidated High School. The program will begin at 11:00 a.m. and will be broadcast over Radio Station WMBC, Macon. The program and the barbecue dinner which follows it are being sponsored by citizens of Brookville and North Natchez County.

Honorable Homer Casteel, Chairman of the Mississippi Public Service Commission, will be one of the speakers on the program which will include prominent citizens and telephone officials as follows: C. J. St. John, Master of Ceremonies; Rev. J. B. Riley, Pastor of the Brookville Baptist Church; Mayor W. W. Gray; Attorney L. L. Martin; E.
R. Richey of Meridian, Southern Bell District Manager; T. E. Harris, Mississippi Manager for Southern Bell, and L. E. Slawson, Rural Development Supervisor for the Telephone Company, both of Jackson; H. P. St. John, Superintendent of the Brookville Consolidated School and Louis Wise of Columbus, Manager Four County Electric Power Association.

A long distance conversation through the new facilities between Senator John Stennis and Jack Pugh will be amplified for the audience and so will the first long distance conversation to go through the new unit—a call from J. E.
Cunningham to a Southern Bell office in Atlanta, Georgia. C. J. St. John will place the first local call.

The unit at Brookville according to Chicago, Ill. (AP)—A telephone switching unit, which cost $1,000,000 and was installed at Brookville, Miss., last week, is expected to save $100,000 a year in operating costs.

A telephone switching unit, which is the nation's most modern by the Chicago office.

Chicago area telephone office said most of the large parties told him by telephone they could not supply the beef at this time. There has been no trouble filling Army requisitions since World War II, he said.

He said beef supplies in the Chicago marketing area are lower than the Army likes to see them. The area takes in troops stationed in Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota, South Dakota, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Arkansas, Kansas and Michigan.

He said no camp has complained so far it does not have enough beef.

SHRIMP BOAT NETS TRAWL OF TURTLES

Mobile, Ala.—The captain and crew of the boat Silver City, locked tight when he pulled in a shrimp trawl and found them full of diamond back turtles.

There were about 150 of the wiggling foot-long tarapans, as well as 1,500 pounds of crabs. Only a few shrimp, the real object of the trip, were caught.

Captain Ollie Seaman, skipper, said the catch was "very unusual." He planned to ship the turtles to New York restaurants, where there's a ready market.

The catch was made after the nets had been out only 15 minutes. By that time "they felt like they were filled with bricks," said Captain Seaman.

Whoever runs from an enemy permits an enemy to run his life.

There is no law in the world to force peoples, or nations, to agree.

T. E. Harris, Mississippi Manager for Southern Bell will be considered a part of the Macon Exchange and the monthly rates paid by subscribers will entitle them to make an unlimited number of calls to any other local telephone connected to the Macon Exchange.

"The cost of the Brookville project," Mr. Harris continued, "will exceed $85,000 and the unit now is the thirteenth of its kind installed in Mississippi during the past two years. Expansion and improvement of our telephone plant in Mississippi have cost Southern Bell more than $50 million dollars in 5 1/2 years—over 8 1/2 million dollars of it having been spent in rural areas.

"We are eager to continue to improve and extend our service to rural areas, and cities as well," concluded Mr.
Harris, but to do this, we must secure vast sums of new capital from investors.
That means, rates for telephone service must be always sufficient to cover the cost of maintaining and operating our plant, and at the same time yield a rate of return that is attractive to investors."
